Prologue

Blurry vision greeted her as she first opened her eyes.
Even with blurry vision, excitement still floated into her stomach as she recognized the vast forest area as Starclan, a place she had not been in quite some time.
She looked around and recognized a familiar pelt approaching her.
"Charmtail? Is that you?" The young medicine cat's mentor had passed away no longer than 2 moons ago.
"Florafall, oh how I've missed you." The old healers voice greeted Florafall as she came closer.
"Oh Charmtail it's so good to see you, how are you? I've taken on a young appren-."
She was suddenly interrupted by her old friend.
"Florafall I'm afraid we haven't much time, I have something important to tell you."
By the expression held on Charmtail's face Florafall knew she mustn't waste the time they had together.
"Danger is coming to the forest, something that threatens to wipe out all of the clans from existence, including Starclan. Kin will fight kin, but in the end, four cats must think as one, and save us all."
Terror flooded Florafall's eyes as blood started to pool around her.
She looked to her mentor for help, but she was already gone.

She awoke to yowling from the nursery.

Chapter 1

Florafall awoke in panic, immediately knowing what was going on. Swanlight's kits were due any day now and it looks like they weren't waiting any longer. Making her way to the nursery she noticed a worried Elkstar exit his den.
"Florafall, what's going on? Is it Swanlight?" Elkstar was kneading the dirt ground with worry.
"I think the kits are coming Elkstar." She explained as they both made their way toward the nursery, Florafall had delivered kits before so she wasn't too worried although there's always pressure on the medicine cat to make sure the kits are delivered safely.
"Elkstar, I know she's your sister but I'm going to have to ask you to wait outside for her privacy." Florafall felt awkward asking this of her leader but Swanlight had requested her privacy.
"Very well then, please alert me when I can see her and the kits." Elkstar requested.
"Absolutely" Florafall responded as she padded into the nursery, leaving a worried Elkstar behind.
She entered to find her apprentice, Vinepaw, already there gently asking Swanlight to stay calm and don't panic.
"Florafall! Thank Starclan you're here!" Swanlight exclaimed, earning an unimpressed look from Vinepaw as she had already attended to her as needed.

It wasn't long before Swanlight had two beautiful she-cats.
"What are you thinking for names?" Florafall questioned Swanlight as she was grooming her newborn kits. "
This ones Dovekit she explained as she looked down at the light grey firstborn, and I think I'll name this one Moonkit, she licked a cream and light grey she-cat."
"Those are both beautiful names Swanlight!" Vinepaw commented.
"Vinepaw would you please get Elkstar? He wanted to see the kits." She asked Vinepaw "Right on it!" Vinepaw meowed as she padded out of the nursery. Vinepaw was always eager to help and Florafall was thankful for having such a wonderful apprentice.

Elkstar's eyes warmed as he layed eyes on the tiny kits.
"How are you Swanlight?" He asked, carefully trying not to disturb his now sleeping nieces.
"Ugh, how do I look? I just had these two!" Swanlight exclaimed while gently nudging her kits.
"The light grey one is Dovekit, and the cream and light grey one is Moonkit." Swanlight rested her gaze on her kits.
"They will be lovely new additions to the clan."
As Elkstar talked with his sister Florafall noticed Bramblekit and Tigerkit looking curiously at their aunts newborns.
Florafall purred
"Bramblekit, Tigerkit, these are your cousins, Dovekit and Moonkit, you can meet them but be gentle, they're not old enough to play yet."
The young kits eyes lit up as they stepped cautiously up beside their father and gazed at the newborn kits.
Kin will fight kin Charmtail's words played over and over again in her head.
She shivered at the memory of the dream, what does it mean Charmtail? she though silently to herself, what does it mean?

(wow, chapter 1 is finito < what even is finito?? > I've only written one chapter and I already have so many ideas and plot twists building up inside my head ^.^ I really am loving writing this and I hope that you read this, and decide to stick with me, as I write the book. Even though I only have a Prologue and one chapter finished, still lemme know how you like this chapter. I'm not fab at author's notes so I think I'm just going to wrap it up by saying thank you so much for reading, and don't forget to comment on how you like each chapter, I would love to hear your opinions!
See you in the next chapter Jcats!! (>^_^)>

[image]

(PLEASE READ !!! Before we start this chapter I just want to say that I will be switching POV'S quite a bit, I will let you know who's POV it is as the beginning of the chapter. I probably won't change POVS halfway through a chapter but if I do I'll try to not make it confusing •-• One last thing ^-^ Chapter 1 was in Florafall's POV but I will probably not write anymore of the story in her POV, the only reason chapter 1 was written like that is for the sake of the story. Thanks for taking the time to read this authors note and I hope you enjoy the chapter! See you at the end Jcats!)

(Bramblekits POV)
Bramblekit awoke to the sweet scent of the nursery.
It had been 3 moons since Dovekit and Moonkit had been born. Bramblekit and Tigerkit were now 5 moons old, their apprentice ceremony quickly approaching.
He suddenly heard his name being called from across the crowded nursery.
"Bramblekit, you're awake! What took you so long?" A mischievous Dovekit poked her head out from behind her sleeping mother.
"Come and play Bramblekit! Tigerkit and Moonkit are already outside!"
The tiny kit squeaked as she bounced out of the nursery in excitement.
It may have only been 3 moons since they were born, but Bramblekit had already formed a strong bond with Dovekit and Moonkit, after all, they were kin.
Just as Bramblekit had made his way out of the nursery he heard his father, Elkstar, call a clan meeting. Bramblekit loved to listen in on the clan meetings, even though, generally, kits weren't supposed to.
"All cats old enough to catch their own prey please gather here, underneath the high cliff." Father's words rang around camp, alerting all the warriors and apprentices.
"It seems we have two kits that are ready to become apprentices today!"

As Bramblekit heard his fathers words he immediately thought he and Tigerkit were about to be apprenticed. Sadly, this was not the case as Emeraldkit and Lionkit came forward with their mother, Velvetrose, watching them with pride.
"Emeraldkit, you have reached the age of six moons, it is time for you to be apprenticed. From this day on, until you receive your warrior name, you will be known as Emeraldpaw. Your mentor will be Poppyfur. I hope she passes down all she knows to you."
"Poppyfur, you are ready to take on an apprentice. You have received excellent training from Emberheart and have shown yourself to be brave and trustworthy. You will be the mentor of Emeraldpaw, and I expect you to pass on all you know to her."
As Elkstar finished, Poppyfur looked down at the nervous apprentice and they touched noses while the clan waited expectantly for Lionkit to be apprenticed. Elkstar preformed the ceremony again on Lionkit; now Lionpaw, who's mentor was Summerlake. Summerlake and Lionpaw touched noses and the whole clan cheered their new names.
"Emeraldpaw! Emeraldpaw! Emeraldpaw! Lionpaw! Lionpaw! Lionpaw!"
Bramblekit couldn't wait to become an apprentice.
He watched as the clan's excitement died down and everyone went back to their normal duties, the new apprentices and their mentors went out to explore Stormclan territory, Bramblekit watched with envy as they left camp.
Suddenly he was toppled to the ground by a huge clump of fur.
"Gotcha!" Tigerkit's amber eyes suddenly appeared out of nowhere.
"You scared me Tigerkit!" Bramblekit meowed before promptly tackling his sister.
"Kits, that's enough, go grab us some fresh kill and we'll eat together." Bramblekit's ears perked at his mothers voice. "Okay Honeysong!" Bramblekit and Tigerkit had just recently started eating fresh kill unlike most of the other, younger kits. They returned to the nursery with a vole to split between the three of them as Tigerkit and Bramblekit didn't need to eat very much to fill their bellies.
His peaceful meal was interrupted as Dovekit and Moonkit came toppling back into the nursery. "Wow look Bramblekit and Tigerkit are eating fresh kill!" He overheard their conversation and chuckled to himself.

"Hey Bramblekit can I try some?" Dovekit came up to Bramblekit, cautiously sniffing the vole. Without waiting for an answer Dovekit took a tiny sample of the fresh kill... And immediately spat it out.
"This stuff is gross! How can you eat this? Milk is much better in my opinion." Dovekit mewed as she padded over to her mother and sister.
Dovekit was definitely not afraid to speak her mind, Moonkit on the other hand had more of a mellow personality.
"Dovekit, remember you said that because when you're older that's all you'll be eating."
Bramblekit was just able to hear Moonkits small voice.
"No way am I eating that stuff, I'd rather crow food!"

~ (later that night) ~

The nursery was silent, all the cats inside it sleeping, except for Bramblekit.
Try as he might he just couldn't get to sleep.
All he could do was think about what it would be like to be an apprentice, to leave the nursery and sleep in a den with his other clan mates, and friends.
 I wonder what everybody else is thinking of... Bramblekit's mind wandered and his gaze settled on his mother.
Suddenly a wave of sadness overcame him, all he could think about is what he would do when his kits left the nursery.  kits? I don't have kits!  Bramblekit was confused on to why his mind would unconsciously imagine such things.
And then it dawned on him.
 that's probably how Honeysong is feeling about Tigerkit and I becoming apprentices so soon, she doesn't want her little kits to grow up so fast I suppose. Bramblekit was thinking to himself.  if that's how Honeysong is feeling, why did I think of it? Bramblekit was generally confused, but shook the feeling off and fell into a deep sleep.

*(hey J's! Sorry for the boring chapter, just what I have to do to get this story going. Just so you aren't confused when I write in stars like this it just means thats the cat's thoughts a.k.a. What they are thinking. Why do you think Bramblekit was imagining how Honeysong felt unconsciously? Lemme know in the comments! I'm thinking of doing Tigerkit's POV in the next chapter ¿(❦□❦)? It would mean the world to me if some of you guys voted on each chapter maybe??? Anyways Jcats, I'll try to update soon!*
See you in the next chapter! (>^_^)>

[image]

(Tigerkit's POV)

Tigerkit awoke to paws batting her ears.
"Wake up Tigerkit! Come onnn wake up!" Tigerkit recognized her brothers voice immediately.
"Bramblekit, I'm sleeping!" Tigerkit mewed, clearly annoyed with her brother.
"But today's our apprentice ceremony! Don't you remember?!" Bramblekit's words sat Tigerkit upright almost instantaneously. They were finally going to become apprentices.
Bramblekit didn't wait for Tigerkit and bounded out of the nursery, where their mother was waiting to groom them before their ceremony.
Tigerkit let herself fully wake up before joining them right outside the nursery.
"Tigerkit, come here dear, let me groom you." Tigerkit stifled a sigh and padded over to her mother to be groomed. Before Honeysong could finish Elkstar's voice rang through the camp and everyone gathered underneath the high cliff.
"Cats of Stormclan, we have two kits that are ready to be apprenticed today." Elkstar's words sent butterflies to her stomach.
"Bramblekit, please step forward."
Tigerkit was glad Bramblekit was going first, he had always been envious of the other apprentices and she knew this would make him happy.
"Bramblekit, you have reached the age of six moons, and are ready to be apprenticed.
From this day on, until you receive your warrior name, you shall be known as Bramblepaw.
Your mentor will be Pinefrost. I hope he passes down all he knows to you."
Tigerkit watched her brother with excitement as his new mentor stepped forward.
"Pinefrost you are ready to take on another apprentice. You have received excellent training from myself and have proven yourself to be loyal and intelligent. You will be the mentor of Bramblepaw and I expect you to pass on all you know to him." Tigerkit watched as Bramblepaw looked up at Pinefrost with excitement glowing in his eyes as they touched noses.

Before she knew Tigerkit was stepping forward and facing her father, her nerves rising.
"Tigerkit, you have reached the age of six moons and are also ready to be apprenticed. From this day on, until you receive your warrior name, you will be known as Tigerpaw." Tigerpaw's heart leapt to her throat as she heard her knew name being said for the first time.
"Your mentor will be Emberheart." Tigerpaw could barely contain her excitement as her mentor stepped forward to face her.
"I hope he passes down all he knows to you." Elkstar's gaze switched to Emberheart's golden brown pelt.
"Emberheart you are ready to take on another apprentice. You have recieved excellent training from Greyfur and have proven to be trustworthy and a skilled fighter. You will be the mentor of Tigerpaw and I expect you to pass down all you know to her." Elkstar finished the ceremony and the clan waited no more than a heartbeat to shout out their new names.
"Bramblepaw! Bramblepaw! Bramblepaw! Tigerpaw! Tigerpaw! Tigerpaw!"
Tigerpaw listened in awe as the clan shouted her name.
It was a moment she would surely remember.
Sadly it didn't last for very long as her clan mates went back to their duties.
As Eaglemoon was organizing the patrols for the day, their mother, Honeysong approached Tigerpaw and Bramblepaw.
"My kits, my sweet little kits are apprentices now! What will I do now that you've left the nursery?" Honeysong looked upon her kits with pride, realizing that they really were growing up so fast.
Tigerkit couldn't help but notice a troubled expression on Bramblepaw's face.

(hey J's!! Sorry for the short chapter :(how did you guys like it? So they're finally apprentices now. Dovekit and Moonkit aren't far behind, they're already 4 moons!! I think I will continue with Tigerpaw's POV in the next chapter as I do have some plans for her, or maybe I'll switch back to Bramblepaw?? For those wondering, I will be writing in Dovekit and Moonkit's POV's as well, just haven't quite gotten around to it yet. Hmm, I think that's all Jcat's. If you wouldn't mind taking a bit of your time to vote for each chapter it would be greatly appreciated but no pressure ;)

See you in the next chapter! (>^_^)>

[image]

(Before we start I just wanted to make a correction to Pinefrost's picture above.
I couldn't find a picture that had the right colour of eyes for Pinefrost, that's the best I could do. In reality he has vibrant deep green eyes. See you at the end of the chapter.)

(Bramblepaw's POV)

Honeysong approached the new apprentices.
"My kits, my sweet little kits are apprentices now. What will I do now that you've left the nursery?"
As soon as the words came out of Honeysong's mouth Bramblepaw was reminded of the night he unconsciously imagined the exact same thing while looking at his mother.
 how did I know she was feeling this way? Come on Bramblepaw it was probably just a coincidence.
He tried convincing himself it was nothing out of the ordinary but he just couldn't get it out of his head.
As he snapped out of his thoughts he realized his face was giving away everything.
"Bramblepaw, you good? You seem a bit off." Tigerpaw was looking at him worriedly.
"Yea, don't worry about it sis." He quickly shut down Tigerpaw's suspicions and tried to act excited as he noticed Pinefrost and Emberheart padding toward them.
"Tigerpaw, Bramblepaw, get ready, Pinefrost and I are going to take you out on a tour of Stormclan's territory and maybe show you a few hunting techniques, sound good?"
Bramblepaw purred at the idea.
"Good? Sounds great!" Bramblepaw responded excitedly.
"Great, come along now." Emberheart and Pinefrost lead the two apprentices out of camp for the very first time.

(Tigerpaw's POV)

Emberheart and Pinefrost led the two apprentices out of camp and into a lush green forest.
This is beautiful Tigerpaw thought to herself as she was lead through the territory by the older cats.
Tigerpaw was overjoyed to finally be an apprentice. Suddenly the remaining clouds in the sky parted, and the sun shone its full glow down on the territory.
Tigerpaw was so busy looking around she didn't realize everyone else had stopped.
"Um, Tigerpaw we're over here." She heard Bramblepaw call out about two fox lengths away.
Tigerpaw looked over her shoulder and realized the other cats had stopped in a good sized clearing while she had unconsciously kept walking.
"Oops, haha." She chuckled nervously as she padded back to join the others gaining amused looks from both Emberheart and Pinefrost.
"This place is called Wolf Clearing, it is where we will do most of our battle training."
Pinefrost explained while Tigerpaw examined the clearing.
The clearing was medium sized, plenty of room for training apprentices. On one side of the clearing she noticed the trees went from oak to pine trees leading in another direction.
"In fact I think we'll be returning tomorrow to teach you some techniques with some of the other apprentices." Tigerpaw and Bramblepaw nodded at Pinefrost's words, eager to explore more of the territory.
They were lead into a deep pine forest that ended abruptly in front of a series of huge cliffs.
"This is Owl's Lookout." Pinefrost started explaining the area.
"Believe it or not this used to be Streamclan's territory but long before you were born there was a fierce battle and we ended up gaining the territory in the end."
They were then lead to what Pinefrost called "Tiger Hollow" it was a grand clearing with the biggest tree Tigerpaw had ever seen right in the middle. The tree had big lines, that looked like stripes in its trunk, earning it's name, Tiger Tree.
They then came to a large river called Long Stream which was the border separating Stormclan territory from Streamclan's territory. The stream had beaches running along it with warm sand that Tigerpaw never wanted to take her paws off of.

Somehow they made their way around the whole Stormclan territory, and to their final stop; Tall Grasses.
"This is tall grasses, great for practicing hunting techniques, the area is lush with prey." Emberheart explained in a hushed tone.
"Pinefrost and I will teach you some hunting techniques and then you two can try to catch something on your own."
The two apprentices agreed and each trotted towards their mentor for the hunting lesson.
"Okay Tigerpaw, so show me what you know already, from instinct." Emberheart prompted her.
"Erm, okay." Tigerpaw was unsure of herself.
She crouched down, tail just above the warm grass.
"Okay that looks nice, only thing you want to adjust is try to spread you your weight out evenly on all four paws." Tigerpaw put Emberheart's advice in place and earned a praise from her mentor.
"Looks good Tigerpaw, let's try to catch something." Emberheart padded over to Pinefrost and Bramblepaw quickly joined in on the apprentices attempt at catching their first prey.
Tigerpaw opened her mouth and searched carefully for any scents. Got one. She caught the scent of a mouse just a few fox lengths away.
She crouched, careful to make sure her tail wasn't dragging behind her and crept forward ever so carefully. 2 fox lengths away. 1 fox length. 1 tail length. The mouse was directly in front of her line of sight. She pounced on the mouse and with one killing bite, swiftly snapped its neck.
Triumph flowed through her as she realized she had just caught her first piece of fresh kill.
Tigerpaw caught 1 more mouse and a crow before heading back to her mentor.
There she saw Bramblepaw had already returned and had caught a rabbit and a small field mouse.
"Whoah, Bramblepaw, look at the size of that rabbit!" Tigerpaw praised her brother
"Thanks Tigerpaw, it was fast, but not fast enough." Bramblepaw looked down at his catch.
Tigerpaw tried to be nice on the outside but in the inside she was feeling emotions she didn't think she would ever feel towards her littermate.

She was jealous, jealous that Bramblepaw was better at hunting than her. Saying it to herself, it sounded stupid, but she truly was. Clouds suddenly covered the sun's bright rays and rain started to pour down on the cats.
I'll show him in battle training how good I can be.

The apprentices took their prey back to camp with the help of their mentors.
"Tigerpaw, before you eat you can take some prey into the medicine cat den for Florafall and Vinepaw, they'll surely be hungry." Emberheart meowed while padding off to share tongues with his mate; Darlingdust.
Tigerpaw set down her prey in the fresh kill pile and took two mice to the medicine cat den.
She padded towards the den, the hanging moss parting as she entered.
Inside she saw Florafall chewing up a paste for a sick Greyfur and Vinepaw sorting through some herbs.
Vinepaw looked up from her work.
"Hello Tigerpaw! Aren't you excited that's you're finally an apprentice?" Vinepaw asked.
"Yea, it's really exciting! I'm just here to drop of some fresh kill for you and Florafall." Tigerpaw dropped the mice near the herbs Vinepaw was sorting through.
"Oh why thank you, I'm starving!" Vinepaw grabbed a mouse and started eating.
Tigerpaw realized Vinepaw wasn't much older than she was, she never got to know Vinepaw. When they were kits, Vinepaw was never into play fighting, she was usually in the medicine cat den, amazed by Florafall and Florafall's old mentor, Charmtail.
Florafall briefly greeted Tigerpaw before digging in to the other mouse.
Tigerpaw left them to eat and went to get some fresh kill of her own.
"Tigerpaw! Over here!" Tigerpaw heard her brothers voice calling her from beside the apprentices den.
Tigerpaw padded over to Bramblepaw.
"I got us a vole we can share!" Bramblepaw meowed.
"Oh thanks! I'm really hungry." Tigerpaw sat down beside her brother and they began eating.

"Who knew Stormclan territory was so big..." Bramblepaw seemed to be lost in thought as the words left his mouth.
"Have you been in the apprentice den yet?" Bramblepaw seemed to have snapped out of his thoughts to ask Tigerpaw.
"Not yet, have you?" Tigerpaw questioned her brother.
"Yea, I went in while you were in the medicine cat's den, some of the other apprentices had already made nests for us." Bramblepaw spoke in between mouthfuls of the vole.
"Oh, that was nice of them!" Tigerpaw was glad that the other apprentices weren't hostile about her and Bramblepaw joining the den.
She looked up at the sky and saw that the rain had stopped and the sky was almost clear.
 weather seems to be matching my emotions today she thought thats funny

(howdy Jcats <howdy? Really Jesse??> wowza this was a long one :\ Sorry I switched POV's in the chapter, thought I might experiment with that a bit. So what's going on with Tigerpaw being jealous of Bramblepaw?? Chill Tigerpaw, chill. What do you think is going on with Bramblepaw and Honeysong, weird that his mind imagined the exact things that came out of her mouth eh? I would love if you all commented and shared your thoughts on this chapter, again I love to hear different ideas and opinions of what might happen. Next chapter I'll try to do in either Dovekit or Moonkit's POV, I feel like they're being a bit neglected so let's fix that up ;) I also want to start introducing some of the other apprentices and maybe get some ships sailing eh? Well that's about it.
See you in the next chapter Jcats (>^_^)>

[image]

(Dovekit's POV)

Dovekit opened her wide blue eyes and looked around the nursery, as always she was the first to wake up.
She decided to see if Tigerpaw and Bramblepaw were awake yet and would play with her.
She padded out of the nursery, stretching as she walked.
In camp she saw Bramblepaw and Tigerpaw sharing some fresh kill.
 ew they're eating that stuff again?! Dovekit decided to sit with them while they ate.
"Dovekit? What are you doing out of the nursery?" Tigerpaw asked Dovekit as she was eating.
"I was just wondering if you and Bramblepaw would play with me! We could play moss ball, just like we used to when you were still in the nursery!" Dovekit shot out the idea.
"Oh.. Dovekit we're really sorry but we're apprentices now. We have duties for the clan we need to stand by. We're just about to go on patrol."
Tigerpaw meowed with sympathy in her voice.
"Yea Dovekit, when you're an apprentice you'll understand." Bramblepaw added
"Well... Okay then." Dovekit slowly made her way back to the nursery.
 don't they like me anymore?  Dovekit thought.
 I didn't do anything wrong, did I*?* Dovekit paused for a moment, thinking of what she could do to make Tigerpaw and Bramblepaw like her.
 I know! I'll sneak on the patrol with them and then they'll see I can be an apprentice too!
Dovekit nodded at the idea.
She swiftly scurried back to where Bramblepaw and Tigerpaw were eating and hid in a nearby bush.
She listened to their conversation.
"Did you sleep okay? Gonna have a lot coming in battle training later today."

Dovekit heard Tigerpaw say in a rather challenging tone.
"Haha, oh ya bring it on." Bramblepaw meowed.
"Tigerpaw! Bramblepaw! We're leaving for patrol now!"
Dovekit looked underneath the high cliff to see some older cats she didn't recognize padding toward the camp entrance, Tigerpaw and Bramblepaw quickly joining them.
_okay this is it_ She nervously thought to herself.
Dovekit waited until the patrol was out of camp then quickly bolted out of camp before anyone could spot or stop her.
She was in a beautiful green forest, and could spot the patrol about 7 fox lengths ahead.
* _There they are_!* Dovekit was so excited she was out of camp.
She bounded towards the patrol, but they were faster and headed to the next border.
"Hey guys, wait up!" Dovekit yelled to the patrol, sadly they were too far ahead for her tiny voice to reach them.
Dovekit sprinted as fast as she could in their direction and eventually found them again at a large stream.
"Wow! This place is cool!" Dovekit said as she bounced up to Bramblepaw.
"Dovekit?! What are you doing here?! You're not supposed to be out of the nursery before dawn let alone out of camp, sneaking into a patrol!" Bramblepaw sounded mad.
maybe this wasn't the best idea... Dovekit lowered her head in shame.
"Bramblepaw, since this kit seems so fond of you, you can escort her back to camp safely."
Dovekit heard a larger dark brown cat say.
that must be Bramblepaw's mentor. she thought.
"Okay, let's go Dovekit." Bramblepaw meowed in an unenthusiastic tone.
They walked back to camp in silence.
"I'm sorry Bramblepaw... I just wanted you guys to like me. I thought if I showed you I could be an apprentice then you would play with me again."
Dovekits apology lingered for a few seconds before gaining a response from Bramblepaw.
"Dovekit, of course Tigerpaw and I still like you! We're apprentices now so we don't have the time to play with you. But trust me if I did, I would be playing with you every second of every day." Bramblepaw reassured Dovekit.

Dovekit perked at Bramblepaw's words.
"Really? You would?" Dovekit mewed.
"Of course Dovekit, but you have to understand that you cant be sneaking out of camp like this agreed?" Bramblepaw asked as they passed a large set of cliff's.
"Agreed." Dovekit decided just as they came to the entrance of the camp.
"Okay Dovekit, I can probably still catch the end of the patrol, be good." Bramblepaw quickly meowed as he bounded into the forest.
Dovekit padded back into camp unnoticed.
She peeked in the nursery and found her sister, Moonkit now awake.

(Moonkit's POV)

Moonkit opened her eyes in slits, the early morning light blinding her.
She stretched out her legs and realized her sister, Dovekit wasn't there.
Just then she saw a tiny light grey head poke through the entrance of the nursery.
"Dovekit? Why were you out of the nursery so early?" Moonkit asked her sister.
"Oh! I um, was just... Saying goodbye to Bramblepaw and Tigerpaw! They're going on a patrol." Moonkit could easily tell her sister was lying.
"Come on Dovekit, the truth." Moonkit was hurt that her sister felt she needed to lie to her.
"Fine.." Dovekit mumbled while padding over to Moonkit.
"Tigerpaw and Bramblepaw never play with us anymore and I thought if I showed them I could go on patrol that they would see I'm not just some silly kit." Dovekit continued "In the end I realized sneaking out of camp was a bad idea, and Bramblepaw explained to me that he needs to train to become a warrior so that he can protect his clan." Dovekit finished looking rather unsure of herself.
"Don't worry Dovekit, soon we'll be apprentices too!" Moonkit tried to cheer up her sister.

"But 2 whole moons is so long to wait! I'll be joining the elders before I become an apprentice!" Dovekit meowed, clearly exaggerating.
"Don't worry, I bet 2 moons will go by in a flash." Moonkit meowed, more to reassure herself than her sister.
Elkstar's voice rang throughout the camp. He was calling a clan meeting.
"Probably Rainkit, Robinkit, Sunkit, and Lightkit's apprentice ceremony." Dovekit mumbled unhappily.
Moonkit watched the gathering from the entrance of the nursery. She saw Glowpaw, Bearpaw, and Nimblepaw line up in front of Elkstar.
 Wow, three new warriors... This is going to be one long ceremony.  Moonkit thought to herself.
Nimblepaw was to go first.
"I, Elkstar leader of Stormclan, call upon my warrior ancestors to look down on this apprentice. She has trained hard to understand the ways of your noble code, and I commend her to you as a warrior in her turn.
Nimblepaw, do you promise to uphold the warrior code and to protect and defend your clan, even at the cost of your life?"
Moonkit watched as Nimblepaw answered the question that would change her life.
"I do." Nimblepaw responded, sounding completely certain of herself.
"Then by the powers of Starclan, I give you your warrior name. Nimblepaw, from this moment on, you will be known as Nimblestep. Starclan honours your brave virtues, and we welcome you as a full warrior of Stormclan."
The clan was buzzing with happy chatter as Elkstar repeated the ceremony with Bearpaw and Glowpaw, who were now known as Bearclaw and Glowflame.
As Elkstar finished the last ceremony the clan cheered the new warriors names.
"Nimblestep! Bearclaw! Glowflame!" The clan cheered.
 Wow, the apprentice den sure is filling up fast, soon Rainkit, Robinskit, Sunkit, and Lightkit will be joining the den...
The new warriors parents, Emberheart and Darlingdust were glowing with pride that their tiny kits, had grown into young warriors

"You three are to sit vigil tonight, until then, do as you wish."
Elkstar dismissed the cats with a flick of his tail.
"That'll be us some day Dovekit." Moonkit glanced over at her sister to find her staring back at Moonkit.
"It sure will."

~ later that night ~

Moonkit sighed as she realized her mother Swanlight would want her to be getting to sleep soon.
Dovekit and Robinkit were playing moss ball while Lightkit, Sunkit and Rainkit were already asleep in the nursery.
The clans excitement had faded and almost everybody was padding into their dens to get some rest.
As Moonkit watched some senior warriors enter their den, she saw Nimblestep, Bearclaw, and Glowflame walk out to begin their vigil.
Not long after that the kits were called into the nursery to get some sleep.
Moonkit padded into the nursery, dragging her tired paws behind her as she went.
She let out a yawn as her and Dovekit curled up beside each other.
"Goodnight Dovekit." Moonkit mumbled, half asleep already.
As Moonkit's mind wandered, she barely heard Dovekit's response as she drifted to sleep.
"Sweet dreams Moonkit."

Moonkit woke up in the nursery.
Everyone was still fast asleep.
She peered out the nursery entrance and saw Nimblestep, Bearclaw, and Glowflame sitting in the deserted camp, still on their vigil.
Moonkit didn't know why, but she felt the urge to keep watching the 3 warriors sit on vigil, as if it were like a show.
Moonkit's gaze drifted to the camp entrance.
She saw a chunk of fur through the bramble.
A pelt she didn't recognize as a cats came into view.
what is that? Moonkit wondered.
 Dear Starclan... Is that a badger? No, it's too tall, too skinny. Moonkit decided it almost looks like, like a dog! But that things not a dog... Moonkit stared in horror as the grey beast slunk into camp, unnoticed by the half asleep warriors.

Suddenly Moonkit wasn't in the nursery anymore.
She was out in the middle of camp.
She looked around in horror. The dog like creatures surrounded her, their teeth already stained with blood.
"Help!" Moonkit's small voice was barely audible to her own ears over the growling of the other creatures.
"Somecat help me!" Moonkit screeched as the creatures closed in on her and she took her last breath.

Moonkit woke up in a cold sweat.
 it was all a dream, it was all a dream.
Moonkit calmed herself.
Suddenly Bearclaw's voice rang throughout the camp. "WOLF!"

(So.... That was chapter 5. I'm honestly not very happy with how this chapter turned out but what can ya do. I'm really excited for chapter 6 though ;) Do you guys think I should kill off one of the new warriors (i.e. Nimblestep, Bearclaw, Glowflame) in the next chapter? I'm definitely going to be killing off someone, dunno if it should be one of them though. Let me know what you think in the comments. Just wanted to clarify that I have absolutely no idea how long I want this book to be. So if we get to chapter 15 and Dovekit and Moonkit still aren't warriors, don't be worried, it really doesn't matter to me how long it is. The only thing that matters is that you guys are still loving the book. I'm sorry if you find the first couple chapters a bit of a bore, there is really so much I need to build up to. Don't worry though, I'd say things are about to get a lot more interesting ;) I suppose that's all I wanted to say J's. Taking the time to vote would be greatly appreciated, once again, no pressure ;)
See you in the next chapter! (>^_^)>

Chapter 6

(Bramblepaw's POV)

Bramblepaw's eyes shot open.
 did I hear that right? Bramblepaw jumped up from his nest.
he looked around the den and noticed Skypaw wasn't in the den. As he looked over the nests of Emeraldpaw, Lionpaw, Tigerpaw and Shadepaw he realized they were beginning to wake up as well. they all lifted their heads, eyes wide in fear from the noise coming from the camp.
There was a loud noise coming from outside the den.
As he reached the exit of the den his heart began to beat harder and faster than it ever had before. He heard screeching and barks coming from the camp.
 barking, could that be dogs?
He ran out of the den, Tigerpaw and Shadepaw not far behind him.

It was horrifying.
Blood stained the ground of the camp.
Warriors were locked in battle with what Bramblepaw assumed were wolves.
wolves...? Bramblepaw's attention was stolen from a wolf coming his way.
dear Starclan help me now, I haven't even had any battle training!
Bramblepaw's battle training had been cancelled due to Nimblestep, Bearclaw, and Glowflame's warrior ceremony.

Bramblepaw decided to just go with instinct and leapt at the wolf as it neared him.
That was his first mistake.
Bramblepaw's confidence faded as the wolf stepped out of the way and sent Bramblepaw skidding on the dirt ground of the camp.
The wolf took advantage of Bramblepaw's vulnerability and bit Bramblepaw right in the back.

Bramblepaw writhed in pain as the wolf sunk its teeth into his back.
Before the wolf could make the kill he was pushed off Bramblepaw.

Bramblepaw struggled for a moment while getting up.
It was Pinefrost who had rammed the wolf off of Bramblepaw and he now had the wolf pinned down on the ground.
Bramblepaw knew a single warrior wouldn't be able to hold a wolf down for long.
He ran over to Pinefrost and started clawing at the wolf.
The wolf was really angry now and started kicking his hind legs at Pinefrost's underbelly.
The wolf gave one last powerful kick and Pinefrost was propelled backwards and layed unmoving on the ground.

Before the wolf had the chance to get up Bramblepaw sliced a huge gash down his underbelly.
The wolf writhed in pain as Bramblepaw sent another blow his way.
A flash of ginger-brown fur passed Bramblepaw on his right and all of the sudden Emberheart was on top of the wolf, fighting alongside Bramblepaw.
The wolf was lying on the ground, still alive, but lacking the strength to defend himself against Emberheart's attacks.
Emberheart took advantage of this and sunk his teeth into the wolfs neck, finishing him.

Bramblepaw turned around, ready to continue the fight, but when he looked around camp he saw that the battle had ended. Six wolves had attacked the camp, only two had been killed, the others injured enough to run away from the fight.
As Bramblepaw's eyes scanned the camp he noticed that multiple warriors laid unmoving on the ground.
Florafall and Vinepaw were rushing around, tending the worst of the wounds first.
Bramblepaw looked around for Tigerpaw but his eyes found Elkstar instead.

His father's leg was bleeding badly but despite his wounds, he jumped up onto the high cliff.
He didn't bother with the formal calling of a clan meeting and addressed the clan right away.
"Cats of Stormclan, as you know, our camp has been attacked by wolves. We are lucky as to have none of our cats killed, but many badly injured. In a time like this I only ask that you don't panic.

Florafall and Vinepaw will tend to the wounds of the injured and I'm sure they will all make a great recovery. In the meantime I need volunteers to go on a patrol to make sure all the wolves have left our territory."
"I'll go." Whitefire volunteered immediately. He wasn't too badly injured and was eager to help the clan as much as he could.
"I'll go as well." Poppyfur stated not long after Whitefire.
"Excellent. Eaglemoon, are you fit enough to lead the patrol?"
"Yes, of course." Eaglemoon replied, she looked like she was trying to hide a huge cut running along her flank.
Was Elkstar really going to let her lead a patrol with her injury? What if they ran into more wolves? Bramblepaw thought to himself.
But Elkstar didn't seem to notice his deputy's injury and continued speaking.
"Poppyfur, choose two apprentices to accompany the patrol. That is all."

*E*lkstar finished addressing the clan and leapt off of the high cliff, flinching at the pain of his injury as he landed.
 Hmm, I don't see Tigerpaw anywhere. I suppose I'll go and see if she's in the medicine cat's den.
*"*Bramblepaw, are you well enough to come on the patrol?"
Bramblepaw was snapped out of his thoughts at Poppyfur's question.
*"W*hat? Oh, yes I think so." Bramblepaw replied.
Bramblepaw wasn't injured very badly in the battle, but his mind was spinning from his first fight.
*"*Okay, ask Shadepaw if she would like to accompany us as well."
*B*ramblepaw followed Poppyfur's gaze to Shadepaw, she was huddled around her father, Pinefrost with Florafall and Cherryfeather.
 he must be badly injured, I hope he's okay. Bramblepaw thought as he padded up to the group of cats huddled around his mentor.
"Excuse me, Shadepaw? I was just wondering if you're feeling well enough to go on a patrol to make sure the wolves have left the territory. " The young apprentice didn't seem to notice Bramblepaw at first.
"Um, Shadepaw?" Bramblepaw tried to gain her attention.
"What's that? Oh yes for sure, I'll join you on that patrol." Shadepaw turned from her father to face Bramblepaw.

"Are you sure, I could ask Skypaw and see if he would want to come if you'd rather stay here with Pinefrost." Bramblepaw offered her.
"No it's fine, I'll come. My brother - Skypaw, is injured pretty badly too, I don't think he'd be up for it." Shadepaw's gaze met Bramblepaw's as she spoke and it was then that Bramblepaw could really admire her features for the first time.
She had a sleek dark grey pelt and beautiful deep green eyes.
"Erm, should we uh, get going now." Shadepaw meowed; clearly uncomfortable, making Bramblepaw realize that he had been staring at the she-cat.
"Oh! Yea, let's go." Bramblepaw spoke quickly and nervously as the two apprentices padded over to the camp entrance to join the rest of the patrol.
"Shadepaw, glad you could join us. Let's get a move on then." Eaglemoon declared as she led the patrol out of camp.

(Hiya Jcats! Hope you enjoyed this chapter! So wow lotta stuff happened in this chapter! I was thinking of doing another version of this chapter only in Tigerpaw's perspective, what do you guys think? Question time!!! Where do you guys think Tigerpaw went? (Why couldn't Bramblepaw find her etc.) What do you think of Bramblepaw and Shadepaw?? Is it too soon for BramblexShade? Keep in mind we also have Rainkit, Sunkit, Robinkit, and Lightkit's apprentice ceremony coming up eh? That should be interesting to have more apprentices join the den! Please lemme know what you thought of this chapter in the comments, and if you would take the time to vote it would be greatly appreciated as well. I think that's about it Jcats! Thanks so much for reading and as always...
See you in the next chapter (> ^_^) >

Chapter 7

(Hey Jcats! Sorry I haven't been active in sooo long :'(I won't bore you with the reasons but I'm so happy to be back on Wattpad! Once again sorry for the inactivity, hope you enjoy this chapter :))

(Tigerpaw's POV)

"WOLF!"
Tigerpaw's eyes shot open.
"WOLVES, WOLVES!" Tigerpaw could hear Bearclaw shouting from outside of the apprentice den.
She ran out of the den, not looking behind to see if any of the other apprentices were following her.
Her eyes darted around camp. Bearclaw, Nimblestep and Glowflame were being cornered by 3 wolves. Tigerpaw's paws were glued to the dusty ground of the camp, she was too scared to move. She only watched as the 3 young warriors were pushed against a large boulder that sat in the far right corner of camp.
Tigerpaw's head turned toward the opposite end of camp, 2 more wolves burst through the second entrance, their eyes hungry and bodies sleek with pure muscle.
Warriors were rushing out of their dens and before she knew it, Tigerpaw was in the midst of a battle.
It all happened so fast.
Tigerpaw whipped around and found a wolf charging towards her. Before she knew it, Skypaw and Whitefire were at her side, doing everything in their power to harm the wolf.
Skypaw leapt on top of the wolf, desperately trying to hold on while biting the wolf's back and neck.
Whitefire was running around the wolf, scratching one side, darting around to the other side and giving the wolf a nice bite.
The wolf was beginning to get frustrated, he shook with all his power and whipped Skypaw off of his back. He gave a triumphant howl as he regained his confidence. His eyes settled on Tigerpaw. She was dead meat.
She finally decided to take action. Darting forward she dodged the wolf and went under his legs, biting and scratching all that she could.

Skypaw had gotten back up and was trying to leap onto the wolf's back again.
The three cats had been joined by Summerlake.
Summerlake dove at the wolf, hooking her claws into it's side.
The wolf was outnumbered. Tigerpaw and Whitefire chased it out of camp.
One wolf was gone.
Tigerpaw had just won against a wolf! She had fought alongside her fellow clan mates and it was exhilarating!
She looked to her right in hopes to flash Whitefire a triumphant smile, but instead she found yet another wolf beside her.
This one was big.
Really big.
 where did Whitefire go off to?
Tigerpaq looked to one side of her and found Whitefire and Summerlake running towards Skypaw, who lay unmoving on the cold ground of camp.
The wolf's muscle rippled underneath it's sleek pelt.
How was she going to fight this thing alone.
She didn't have time to call out to her other clanmates as she was being pushed behind the medicine cats den by the wolf, her clanmates were too busy fighting to notice Tigerpaws dilemma.
The wolf bared its sharp teeth at Tigerpaw.
She was trying to look for a way around the wolf.
 maybe I can slide underneath his belly...? No, too risky. I'm alone on this one, I need to choose my moves carefully she thought to herself.
The wolf wasn't going to waste time, it lashed out at Tigerpaw. It's claws dug into Tigerpaws side, she fell to the dirt ground of camp.
She was bleeding, but not too badly. She must go on.
Tigerpaw charged at the wolf, she didn't have much space as the wolf continued to push her back further in behind the medicine cat's den.
She slashed out at the wolf's nose and neck, constantly dodging from side to side, avoiding the wolf's counter attacks, doing anything just to break the skin.
The wolf wasn't looking to play games, he growled and snarled as Tigerpaw continued to cut and scrape him.
Tigerpaw heard a huge yowl and suddenly she saw Eaglemoon jump on the wolf. The wolf was startled and whipped around, but not fast enough.

Eaglemoon had jumped to one side of the wolf and had started attacking him viciously.
Tigerpaw joined in the fight, driving the wolf out from behind the medicine cats den and towards one of the exits of camp.
The two she-cats had almost driven the wolf out of camp when it suddenly lashed out at both of them with power behind its blow.
The wolf's powerful blow injured Eaglemoons leg very badly and left her lying on the ground of the camp.
When the wolf's paw hit Tigerpaw it sent her flying. She was thrown against the high cliff, and eveything went black...

(hey Jcats!! Sooo I finally published this chapter! It took me a pretty long time to write, I was having some writers block I suppose. Once again so sorry for the inactivity .
So excited for the next couple of chapters guys!
Also just a reminder that this was basically just the same as the last chapter, only in Tigerpaws POV. In the next chapter we will start off with Bramblepaw and the patrol he was asked to accompany in the last chapter. Alright Jcats thank you for reading and as always, See you in the next chapter (>^_^)>
